

Become a member

There are 3 membership categories. Even though the main benefits are the same for all members, there are certain differences.Â

- Company membership This type of membership is only open for producers/traders of Floriculture products (including trading producers). The membership is registered on the company and the benefits are available for all staff working at the company. Each company membership has one vote in National Assemble meetings. As main type of membership, company member will get all of ASBINDO members benefit.
- Associated membershipÂ This membership is only open for other stakeholders (florist, decorators, suppliers other products). Each Group membership has one vote in the National Assemble. Benefit of this membership almost same with company members especially in building network.
- Others This membership is open for kelompok tani, and personal member. You can become a member on personal title. This membership has one vote in the National Assemble meetings, regardless of the number of farmers that belong to the Kelompok tani. All other benefits are available for all participants of the Kelompok tani.

* If you are producer of floriculture product please register as Company Member.Â
