

As is the case with world products industry, whether electronics, equipment medical, automotive and others, application of product certification in agroindustry is also starting to become a demand export market.